

Rent a Data Scientist™

Gartner states that the #1 barrier to ML & AI adoption lies within the technical skills of the current staff.

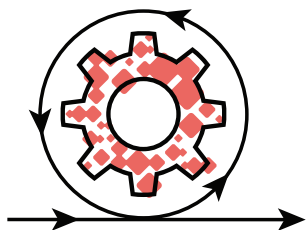

In response to this market need, Mosaic launched our popular staff augmentation service.

What is it?

Mosaic will rent your company a data scientist (or two) with the optimal skillset for your project at a competitive hourly rate, on a part-time or full-time basis, for as long as your project requires. Our data science professionals enjoy & have experience designing and deploying custom solutions steeped in predictive analytics, machine learning, and AI.

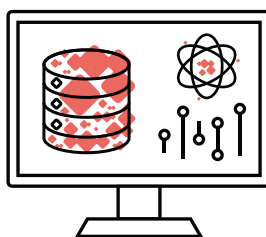

Why does this work?

Agility

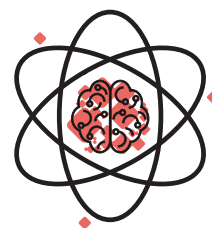

Mosaic works with customers to identify the skillsets required to meet project needs. We provide the proper data scientist or team to ensure positive results in a short timeframe. Our data scientists' analytical acumen is a key market differentiator. We help uncover insights that matter to your business in weeks, not years.

Experience

Mosaic has successfully applied advanced analytics tools to critical decisions in every significant industry segment, from healthcare to oil & gas exploration. Our deep expertise in all things analytics enables us to support any effort to drive improved operational & strategic decisions.

Service

Mosaic has been providing advanced analytics support to a wide range of organizations for the past 15 years. There is a good chance we have solved your exact question, or something quite similar. Mosaic is comfortable shaping our engagement to fit your needs - with RaDS™, you drive the tasking and deliverables, based on your daily, weekly, and long-term needs.